War Emergency Bill Passed Despite Veto

SENATE OVERRIDES PRESIDENTIAL VETO WITH BIG MAJORITY

Vote for the Passage of Farmers' Relief Measure Is 53 for to 5 Against.

HOUSE WILL FOLLOW SUIT, SAYS HOLLOWAY

Application Discretionary With Secretary Houston, But Impeachment Predicted Should He Fail.

BY JAMES A. HOLLOWAY, Constitution Staff Correspondent.

Washington, January 3.—(Special)—The house tomorrow morning will follow the senate's action of this afternoon and pass the bill reviving the war finance corporation over the veto of the president and by a vote relatively as large that of the senate. In the debate preceding the vote the president will be bitterly assailed for his action, but the burden of the assault on the executive branch of the government will be directed at Secretary of the Treasury Houston, who will be accused of delaying the president's action and of practically writing the veto message. The Georgia delegation will vote with the majority to pass the measure over the veto.

The re-establishment of this war-time financial auxiliary therefore will have been accomplished by the legal overriding voice of congress before another night, and unless Secretary Houston stultified himself as to his promises made to the banking and currency committee during the spring, he will apply his provisions, left discretionary with him by the terms of the act, to the relief of the present producing crisis. Unless he does so it is an open secret that articles of impeachment will be prepared against him, and if congress remains in its present humor, he pushed with the vigor that the acuteness of the situation demands.

The assaults that have been directed at both the president and his secretary of the treasury in this matter have been unparisian in character, the democrats joining the republicans in the bitterest attacks made upon a branch of government in recent years.

The action of the president in vetoing the war finance corporation bill was fully anticipated in these dispatches the day the revival measure was passed by congress.

QUICKLY OVERURED.

Washington, January 3.—Veto by President Wilson today of the farmers' relief bill to revive the war finance corporation was followed almost immediately by a vote of 53 to 5 in the senate to make the bill law despite executive disapproval. The house will take up the measure tomorrow and predictions were general that it would duplicate the senate's action and thus place the bill on the statute books.

President Wilson, in a lengthy veto message, declared he withheld his approval of the bill because the war finance corporation was a war credit agency, not desirable or needed.

German Toymakers Stuff Arms of Dolls With 'Made in Germany'

New York, January 3.—Little Maurice Henry Brown, aged 18 months, who lives in Yonkers, discovered how the German toy makers hid their pride and circumvented prejudice in the American doll market this year. Henry dropped his Christmas doll and broke one of its arms. Out dropped a little roll of paper, upon which was printed: "Made in Germany." Time was when any toy from the German market had this label firmly stamped in a conspicuous place.

He Fought for U. S., But Now Is Barred From Entering Country

New York, January 3.—Because he could not read 40 words in any language, Demetrios Robos, twice wounded while fighting in France as a corporal in the United States army, today was denied readmission to America.

Failing in the literacy test at Ellis Island, and asked if he "understood" the English language, he replied: "I understand orders in the army." Robos came to America in 1910 and was drafted in Philadelphia in 1918. He could have re-entered this country without examination if he had returned within six months after obtaining his discharge overseas. But he went to his old home in Albania and remained 15 months. His case has been appealed to the secretary of labor.

Venus Very Popular—Likewise Goat Bock—But No Irish Navy

New York, January 3.—Any number of schooners and chasers have been found in East Side saloons, but no trace of the Irish breadnaughts, "Erin's Star" and "Ireland's Hope."

The search was made because E. ratio Bottomley, the English publisher, reported in his London newspaper recently that an Irish navy actually was in existence and that photographs of the two dreadnaughts were to be seen in a New York water front tea room.

An incomplete canvass of saloons along the East river shows 14 lithographs of Venus in unconventional attire; 20 portraits of the Great Goat Bock and one of John L. Sullivan.

New York, January 3.—"A word to the wise is sufficient," wrote George J. An Alarming Ducking That Brought Out Fire Fighters and Swearing

New York, January 3.—Two fire boats, three engine companies, a water tower, a water tender, a fire patrol, two battalion chiefs and a deputy fire chief, were called out when Samuel Arveyne, of Brooklyn, fell into the East river last night. Arveyne had trailed his dripping way toward shore, however, before the rescuers arrived. The excited man who sent in the general alarm also had disappeared.

Whatever Is Done About Road's Wage Scale Will Be Taken as a Precedent by Others.

Washington, January 3.—It seems probable that a Georgia railroad may be the instrument utilized in the direct settlement of a national question that has been raised with reference to railroad wages.

Three aldermen and nine councilmen subscribed to the oath as follows: Alderman A. H. Cochran, J. L. McDonald, O. H. Williamson and Councilmen W. A. Sims, R. E. Stone, C. E. Buchanan, J. O. Wood, S. A. Wardlaw, W. M. Etheridge, J. C. Murphy, H. N. Alford and W. P. Anderson.

The mayor then took up the reading of his message in which he asked the council to levy an emergency tax of one-half of 1 per cent for school improvement purposes, and discussed other important matters. NEW CITY COUNCIL NOW CONTROLLING ATLANTA AFFAIRS

Charter Revision Committee Will Be Appointed to Consider All Resolutions and Amendments.

ALDERMAN N. T. SPRATT MADE MAYOR PRO TEM.

Large Number of Members Elected to Various Boards of City—Key Announces His Committees.

The management of Atlanta's municipal government passed from the hands of the 1920 city council into those of the 1921 assembly Monday night, twelve "newly elected" members taking the oath of office.

The first piece of legislation adopted by the new council was a resolution by Councilman J. R. Nutting providing for the appointment by the mayor of a charter revision committee of five members to which shall be referred all resolutions or ordinances having character revision of constitutional amendments as their object.

Mayor Key's annual message, his announcement of the standing committees for the year, the election of a mayor pro tem and provisional mayor pro tem, the swearing in of new members, and the election of board members were features of the initial meeting of this year's council.

The passage of the 1920 council was marked by the presentations by its members of a beautiful diamond studded gold watch fob to Alderman Harvey Hatcher, the retiring mayor pro tem, and to Alderman L. F. Styron, retiring provisional mayor pro tem.

Spratt Made Mayor Pro Tem.

Alderman Nelson T. Spratt, of the tenth ward, was elected without opposition to prade over the new assembly as mayor pro tem, and Dr. A. H. Cochran, alderman from the second ward, was named as provisional mayor pro tem.

Promptly at 7:30 o'clock Monday night the 1920 council met in final session. The presiding officer asked the clerk if there was any business before the body. He replied that there was none. Councilman J. R. Nutting arose and requested of the chair permission to perform a "delightful duty" before a motion to adjourn was offered.

This was the presentation of the gifts, tokens of council esteem, to the two retiring officials, whose terms as members of the assembly also expired with the last meeting of the year. In eloquent speeches, referring to the past constructive, efficient and valuable service of the two aldermen, which had endeared them to the constituents, Mr. Nutting presented the watch fob to Mr. Hatcher and the silver pitcher to Mr. Styron. The recipients made appropriate responses.

A motion to adjourn sine die was offered and adopted and the 1920 council became history.

New Members Sworn In.

The members whose terms expired vacated their places and the representatives succeeding them filed in and occupied them. City Clerk Walter Taylor whacked the gavel calling the new council to order. The members rose and remained standing while Rev. Martin Williams pronounced a brief invocation.

Major Key then advanced to the mayor pro tem's chair and was sworn in by Judge John D. Humphries, of the Fulton county superior court. The mayor then, in turn, administered the oath to the newly elected aldermen and councilmen.

Three aldermen and nine councilmen subscribed to the oath as follows: Alderman A. H. Cochran, J. L. McDonald, O. H. Williamson and Councilmen W. A. Sims, R. E. Stone, C. E. Buchanan, J. O. Wood, S. A. Wardlaw, W. M. Etheridge, J. C. Murphy, H. N. Alford and W. P. Anderson.

Debate on Muscle Shoals Appropriation Halts Progress of Sundry Civil Bill in Congress.

SHIPPING BOARD LEFT WITHOUT ANY SUPPORT

Appropriations for Shipping Board and Council of National Defense Stricken From Measure.

Washington, January 3.—After wading through nearly a fourth of the 171 pages of the sundry civil bill, first of the fifteen bills in the appropriations measures, the house tonight was halted by an: wave of talk over an amendment providing $10,000,000 for work on the Wilson dam part of the Muscle Shoals nitrate plant project in Alabama.

There were insistent demands for time, southern members especially desiring to speak in behalf of the amendment offered by Representative Byrnes, Tennessee, ranking democrat of the appropriations committee. It was agreed to limit debate tomorrow to an hour and a half. Republicans, ready to make a point of order against the amendment, with every assurance that it would be sustained, declined to press it so that everybody could talk and then bring the question squarely to a vote.

In taking up the bill item by item before reaching the Muscle Shoals question, the house approved it with few changes.

Funds Stricken.

An appropriation of $15,000 for the council of national defense was stricken out, 45 to 23, with the result that it will be left without funds July 1. The expected fight on the shipping board item fell down, although the paragraph directing the board to sell its ships and build no more, was ordered out of the ground that it was covered by existing law.

HOUSE DISCUSSES DAM AMENDMENT TO FINANCE BILL

'Monk' Was Killed In Midnight Revel By Prohi Officer

Agent Bohan Tells of Christmas Drinking Party at Blue Bird Cafe, Which Ended in Death.

New York, January 3.—Backwash from the high tide in New York's crime wave created more excitement in police department circles today than the few fresh outbreaks of violence in the last twenty four hours.

The mystery which had enveloped the killing on the morning after Christmas of "Monk" Eastman, gangster-soldier, was cleared up when Jeremiah Bohan, a prohibition enforcement agent, surrendered and, it is alleged, admitted shooting the "Monk" who had his citizenship rights returned after valiant war service.

Bohan described the killing as taking place after a drinking party at the Blue Bird cafe, following threats on his life and "the language" by Eastman, police said.

A successful escape from an iron-barred jail cell provided another sensational for the authorities. Harry Blitzberg, who had been arrested in connection with the holding up and robbery of the First National Bank of Milltown, N. J., on December 20, jumped to freedom after filing and sawing his way out of his cell window. Nineteen other prisoners tried to follow him, but a lone guard stopped them with a display of his revolver.

While seventy-one policemen were facing charges of delinquency in performance of duty at Brooklyn headquarters, another bluecoat labored through as busy a day as he could remember. Patrolman Kirwin, off work noon had emptied his six shooter twice and arrested single-handed five alleged hold-up men.

CLEVELAND MURDERERS UNDER ARREST.

Cleveland, Ohio, January 3.—Three of the five gunmen who murdered W. C. Sly and George K. Fanner during a $4,000 pay-off robbery on Friday are under arrest and have been positively identified by eye witnesses to the double slaying. Detective Inspector Sterling announced today. One of the captives was identified as Frank Miller, who had been with the band. Two other members of the band, two of the gang were arrested Sunday night and the other three.

The court reversed lower court decision dismissing the application of the Duplex Printing Press company, of Battle Creek, Mich., for an injunction restraining Emil J. Deering and William Bramley, as members of the International Association of Machinists, from continuing a so-called secondary boycott. This was described by the court as "a combination not merely to refrain from dealing with complainant or to advise or by peaceful means to persuade complainants to refrain (primary boycott), but to exercise coercive pressure upon such customers, actual and prospective, in order to cause them to withhold or withdraw patronage from complainant through fear of loss or damage to themselves should they deal with it."

Labor leaders of prominence declined to comment on the decision of the court, which is the first to be given on what President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, has described as "labor's bill of rights." At the headquarters of the International Association of Machinists it was said that all the officers were out of town.

Importance of Section.

Importunity from prosecution was claimed for the agents of the union under section six of the Clayton act, which sets forth that the "labor of a human being is not an article or commodity of commerce." It was contended during the course of the litigation that under section 20 of the same statute the courts were specifically restrained from granting injunctions such as that for which application was made.

Justice Pitney, who read the opinion of the court, said:

"As to section six, it seems to us that its principal importance in this discussion is for what it does not authorize, and for the limit it sets to the immunity conferred. The action assumes the normal objects of a labor organization to be legitimate, and declares that nothing in the anti-trust laws shall be construed to forbid the existence and operation of such organizations or to forbid their members from lawfully carrying out their legitimate objects. But there is nothing in the section to exempt such an organization or its members from accountabilities where it or they depart from its legitimate objects and engage in an actual combination or conspiracy in restraint of trade."

Lieutants Shaw and Waggoner should be discharged, that evidence should be placed in the hands of the county attorney, and that the officers simply follow the grand jury recommendations without having even bit of evidence that applies and disqualification in duty or connivance with crime on the part of the detectives.

DETECTIVES UNPERTURBED.

Despite the fact that the board meeting had been called and that reports were ripe about the courthouse to the effect that the evidence would be submitted to the new grand jury in order to bring the detective department and certain city politicians for connection with the operations of the underworld, the detectives directly affected by the grand jury presentations maintained an unperturbed front Monday.

The solicitor general was also reticent about talking of any possible grand jury action against politicians or policemen. He declared that he had never made a statement in regard to obtaining indictments against any detective or politician, nor had he given any indication as to what the evidence to be presented to the new grand jury. He also refused to comment on the presentations of the grand jury.

The new grand jury was empanneled Monday and began work by calling R. J. Guinn, former president of the Atlanta Board of Education, as foreman. Indication that the solicitor general is far from through with his activities against the confidence operators was given by the fact that he and his staff were working in their offices at the county courthouse until a late hour Monday night.

POSSIBLE CONNIVANCE.

The report of the grand jury, revealing the history and extent of the gambling and confidence operations in Atlanta, and the conduct of the detective department with possible connivance in these operations, as well as laxity in duty, and severely criticizing methods in general at police headquarters created a profound impression throughout Atlanta.

The report, signed by A. McD. Wilson, attorney business man, who was foreman, was one of the most sweeping documents ever filed with an Atlanta court. It not only declared that the presentations of evidence submitted to the inquisitorial body made the removal of the three heads of the detective department imperative, but called for an immediate reorganization of the police force from top to bottom.

While the chief of police was exonerated with the knowledge of or connivance with the confidence syndicate, the grand jurors urged that he be made chief "in fact as well as in name" and be held directly responsible for the efficiency of the department.

Another startling feature of the report was the strong implication that the探长, who headed the supposed brains of the syndicate, had fled from Atlanta, operated for years with the knowledge of the police and in a manner that indicated that he enjoyed police immunity.

NEVER ACTUALLY CLOSED.

Further charges were made that the police, though occasionally raided, were never actually closed. The report intimated that when these raids were made Woodward and his aides received advance notification.

Hardy had the report of the grand jury made public when Chairman W. C. Chambers, acting chairman of the police board during the illness of Chairman J. W. Maddox, called the special session of the board for Tuesday night at 8:30 o'clock.

Mr. Chambers stated that he had the highest possible regard for the three men attacked by the grand jurors in that presentation, and that he was open to conviction if the evidence to be presented should bear out the allegations made.

Members of the board, however, based upon the information of the police force recommended:

Beaver Not Ready to Talk.

"I read the report of the grand jury read," said Chief Beavers, "but it covered such a variety of subjects and went into such detail that it is impossible for me to make a statement at this time. If I do make a statement at all, it will be after I have had an opportunity to read the report."

Chief of Detectives Lamar Poole also declined to make any statement. "We have a board of police commissioners to which this office directly responsible," he said. "It is not manifestly out of place for me to say anything at this time until the board has an opportunity to meet and take any action it sees fit on the report of the grand jury."

Of course, the action that the board takes will determine what I have to say on the subject." If I am asked, however, does not see fit to reply to the grand jury presentation, I most assuredly will have something to say, and what I have to say will be interesting."

Detective Lt. W. C. Shaw and Woodward pointed out that Chief Poole was head of the department, and any statement from them would be inadvisable until the chief had an opportunity to talk.

EXTENSION GRANTED IN INSURANCE SUIT

Billion-Dollar Anti-Trust Suit Now Pending in Mississippi

Jackson, Miss., January 3.—One hundred and sixty-five insurance companies, defendants in the billion dollar anti-trust suit filed by the state revenue department, were today granted an extension of thirty days to prepare their answer to the bill of complaint when the case was referred to the docket of the Hindman chancellor.

Application for the extension, granted by Chancellor Stricker, was based on the ground that there was one of two inconveniences that further time is necessary in which to prepare answer.

The state revenue agent immediately said he noticed that he would begin taking depositions of witnesses commanding with fire-insurance agents of Jackson.

Complaint defendants gave notice that a motion would be filed with the court asking dismissal of the suit in so far as it applies to those concerned in reinsurance only.

The contention is set up that only seventy of the defendant companies are engaged in reinsurance, leaving fire risks, and that the re-insurance companies have no connection with the bureaus of inspection which are alleged by the state revenue agent to issue advisory advice.

Decatur church gives $400 to aid starving orphans

The Decatur Presbyterian church contributed $600 to orphans going through the winter campaign, while the other $200 was given to American orphans.

One hundred dollars was given to the Presbyterian orphanage at Clinton, S. C., and $100 to the school at Nacoochee, Ga., and the remainder to the Atlanta campaign.

"We gave the most to the children of Europe because we believed they needed it the most this year," said the pastor, Rev. Dr. Paul Gaschy. "We felt that the appeal from Europe is one that cannot be denied. There is no difference of race or color in the desire to save children from starvation.

Those boys and girls so many thousands of miles away, through no fault of their own, are in dire poverty and death. It is up to us to do what we can for them as generously and readily as though they were at our very doorsteps."

Railway conductors visited by leader

L. E. Shappard, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, president of the Order of Railway conductors, was in Atlanta Sunday, as the guest of local conductors. He took charge at the annual installation of officers of Division 180 at the Western Central Avenue. An interesting feature of the meeting was the presentation to the division by W. S. Corburn of a hardwood gavel sent from Panama by J. G. Carwood, a conductor.

Sell big plantation.

Americus, Ga., January 3.—(Special)—W. T. Anderson and Cobb Sumerford, of Leslie, have just purchased the J. M. Sumerford plantation of 750 acres lying just inside the city limits of Leslie. The consideration involved in the deal was not announced. The Sumerford plantation has been greatly improved in Sumter county, and Cobb Sumerford is now engaged in building a handsome new residence there. A large part of the old farm will be devoted by the new owners to raising hogs and cattle.

Every Dollar Goes To Feed Orphans, Says Underwood

Special emphasis was given by E. Marvin Underwood, state chairman for Georgia of the campaign for the relief of the starving children of Europe, in a statement issued Tuesday, to the effect that not a dollar contributed to the fund will be used for any other purpose than the purchase of food.

"In other words," said Chairman Underwood, "this campaign is being conducted without any overhead expense whatever, and the contributions made by the public. Every dollar needed to pay the cost of transporting food to the starving children of Europe has been contributed from other and different sources. Every newspaper advertisement printed in connection with the campaign is bound paid for contributions entirely outside of their contributions to the fund itself."

"The man or woman or child who gives a dollar or more or less may rest assured that 100 cents of that dollar will be invested in food, and that all of the food will go across the sea to the starving children of Europe."

The enterprising city of Decatur, the county seat of DeKalb county, and next door neighbor of Atlanta, bids fair to lead the state in contributions to the European relief fund.

The first notable contribution from Decatur was made by the boys and girls of the Methodist orphanage near that city. Their supper so that the cost could be contributed to the fund for the millions of boys and girls in Europe.

Talked in Whisper For Number of Years, Regains Lost Voice

Dublin, Ga., January 3.—(Special)—H. H. Lowry, a young white man of this country, who has not been able to speak above a low whisper for three years, surprised his friends here today by talking in a normal tone of voice.

He stated to them, that this morning he was dressing and opened his mouth to make some remark, when he was surprised to hear himself talk in a normal tone, and not in the husky whisper he had been accustomed to for years. His voice had left him without any warning. Following an attack of meningitis at Camp Wheeler, just after that camp was opened.

BILL WOULD PROTECT SICK MAN'S LIQUOR

Washington, January 3.—A bill designed to prevent the doctoring or adulteration of the sick man's liquor was introduced today by Representative Van Velpen of Pennsylvania. Specifically, it would stop the manufacture and sale for medicinal purposes of whisky containing less than 45 per cent of alcohol.

In a letter to Chairman Volstead, of the house judiciary committee, Mr. Van declared there had been wholesale violations of the medicinal purposes of the禁酒法, and that great harm had resulted to patients for whom liquor had been prescribed.

ROOSEVELT ACTION SCORED IN SENATE

Debate on Colombian Treaty Brings Attack
and Defense of Former President's Panama
Policy.

Washington, January 3.—President
Roosevelt's action in connection with the acquisition of the Panama canal zone was attacked and defended today in the senate.

The question of demurrage due to the delay in unloading and the detention of Captain Sorrenson and his crew aboard the Pontia all day Friday, probably will be made the subject of diplomatic exchanges.

Congressional leaders presented a statement which will be transmitted to John W. Davis, the American ambassador in London.

Two men who, according to a statement issued from the canal zone
yesterday, were held captive by soldiers were shot and killed by the soldiers yesterday while attempting to escape. They were David Tobin and Thomas Murphy, of Ballingarry, County Limerick.

RETURNED ON OWN INITIATIVE.

New York, January 3.—Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," in returning to Ireland, did so against the advice of naval officials and the military, which was anxious that he remain in America to present the "republic's" claim before the new administration.

This was announced here tonight
by Harry Boland, De Valera's secretary, who said that "he had come back so rapidly in Ireland in the past few months President de Valera decided on his own initiative to return."

Mr. Boland said De Valera had been in close touch with the Irish republican government ever since he landed in the United States, and was fully informed of events there.

He had had no communication,
however, with the British Government, and last night Dr. Boland continued, together with the
"acting president of the Irish republic," had announced in behalf of their parliament they were prepared
"as representatives of the Irish nation to make representations to England and draw a peace treaty between the two nations."

Boland attributed the peace talk
"that has been flooding the American press for the last two months to the efforts by British officials to have American people believe England really sought peace with Ireland."

A Christmas card, addressed to De Valera in New York from the royal Irish cabinet, has been received, Boland said. The card bore the "black and tan" letterhead, he added, and read:

"To wish you happiness at this Christmastide and through the coming year. One of them."

Naval Commander Disobeyed Germans; Relieved of Ship

Ex-Commander Ellyson,
of the U. S. Destroyer
Brooks, Arrives in New York on Transport.

New York, January 3.—The long expected meeting between Mayor Murray Stewart, of Savannah, and State Prohibition Enforcement Officer Ernest Mercer,
of Atlanta, was held, charged that local officers might have connived
at liquor law violations, took place
this afternoon in the mayor's private office, the conference being extremely fervid, not to say torrid, half hour ensuing. The conference was in private, newspaper men being excluded by the mayor, and only the chief of police and other officers present.

It is understood that the mayor
invited the state officer to specify what he could do to meet the alleged charges that local liquor laws were violated.

Colonel Ellyson, former commander of the United States naval destroyer Brooks, who was relieved of his command in King Harbor, Georgia, following his refusal to come to leave the harbor, arrived here today.

The incident occurred September 20 shortly after the Brooks anchored in the harbor. A German naval officer, bound for Canada, Col. Ellyson, said he refused to come to leave
when the German officer asked him to leave. When he refused the German left and another German officer commanding the port came aboard.

"He told me that the Brooks could not remain in the harbor, as the United States was still at war with Germany," Colonel Ellyson said.
He repeated my orders, I declined to go. Then he said he would give me thirty minutes to clear out of the harbor or I would be cannonaded.
I did not tell him 'go to hell,' as it has been reported, but I did tell him that I had as much ammunition as he had. I continued, however, to refuse to go.

The Germans did not carry out their threat, he added. Later he reported the incident to Rear Admiral Hughes and his transfer was requested shortly afterward.

Hunt-Strupper.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dean Hunt, Jr., of Columbus, Ga., have announced the engagement of their daughter, Odette, to Mr. George Everett Strupper, also of Columbus, the marriage to take place March 9, at home.

Dr. Rosalie Morton To Lecture Here.

Dr. Rosalie S. Morton, distinguished American lecturer, will speak at the Woman's club on Monday afternoon, January 10, at 3 o'clock. "Girhood and Woman in Serbia" will be the subject. Dr. Morton has the honor of having received the highest commendation of any American woman during the war.

She was also decorated by the Serbian government as a chevalier of the order of St. Sava, because of her services rendered that country during the war.

When war was declared Dr. Morton was a professor in the New York Polytechnic, a graduate and an attending surgeon at the Vanderbilt clinic of the College of Physicians and Surgeons, the Medical School of Columbia University.

Immediately she obtained leave of absence and devoted her time to hospital and relief work during the entire period of the war.

A present Dr. Morton is at the head of the reconstruction work of America in Serbia. She will bring a message of conditions existing there and other foreign countries today that will give us a clear idea and vision that no one not personally in touch with the work can have.

Dr. Morton comes to Atlanta from New York for only one day. Her lecture will be intensely interesting and instructive.

The members of the Woman's club are invited to attend. The general public will be admitted on payment of $1 at the door.

To Mr. and Mrs. Newell.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldine Powell gave an enjoyable evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Newell. Mr. and Mrs. Newell were recently married in Washington, the bride's home, and will reside in Atlanta at 116 Waverly way.

Matinee Party.

Mrs. Frank Burr gave a matinee party yesterday at the Howard in compliment to Miss Bateman, of Chicago, the guest of Mrs. Claud Frederick.

Mrs. Coleman In Cedartown.

Mrs. Walter Scott Coleman, vice president of the Georgia division, U. D. C., will address the Cedartown chapter Wednesday afternoon at its new home in the home of Mrs. W. M. Mundy during her stay in Cedartown.

Club de Vingt.

A new division of the Club de Vingt has been formed at the Craigie house. This new group is made up of young boys and girls, most of whom are in their first and second year in high school. Among the members are Misses Isabella Breitbacher, Beulah Perkins, Lula McElroy, Wanda Blackman, Mrs. Catherine Catchings, Margaret Macboney, Josephine Duval, Catherine Bayley and about eight other girls. Among those who are members Ernest Kontz, Ragan Jones, Weir Cranckshaw, John Wear, Jr., Donald Horton, Charles Clarke, Wallace Moore, William Duhon, Frank and Lewis Dean and others.

This class met on Monday and Dancing Class At Standard Club.

There will be a dancing party Friday afternoon by the members of the dancing class of the Standard club at 3:30 o'clock.

Club de Vingt to Have Bridge Series.

An innovation which has met with the hearty approval of the girl members of the Club de Vingt is the introduction of bridge at the weekly dance held every Saturday afternoon at the D. A. R. chapter house.

Beginning Saturday the girls will assemble at 3:30 in the afternoon to play a few games of bridge. The boys will arrive at 4:30, when the bridge game will be abandoned for dancing. It is expected that this innovation will meet with great success. The parents of the members will be asked to assist the young ladies whose playing is below par.

The serving of refreshments—tea, chocolate and wafers—is another attraction of Mr. Abel Murray's plan to give the members of the Club de Vingt an opportunity of becoming proficient in the duties of the game. There will be six classes which will later assume in society. The Standard club girls will be chaperoned by six ladies, the parents of the members. The parents will assist in serving tea. Mr. Abel Winburn will be at the helm.

Miss Wells was gowned in taupe colored charmeuse, beaded in iridescent sequins, and was wearing a touch of rose color on the bodice. Mrs. Wells wore a gown of black satin.

PLEADS MONOMANIA AS MURDER DEFENSE

Greenville, S. C., January 3.—Hugh T. Bramlett went into the afternoon for the third time in the courts of sessions here, charged with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Lula C. Bramlett, more than a year ago. Bramlett was convicted in August, 1919, and sentenced to death. A new trial was granted by the supreme court. Two months ago the case came up for trial, but owing to exhaustion of the jury panel, a mistrial was ordered.

The strength of the fighting force much below that mark recruiting will be resumed, it was added.

SENATE OVERIDES PRESIDENT'S VETO

ed in peace times. He said that it "would exert no beneficial influence on the situation" . . . would raise false hopes among the very people who would expect most and would be hurtful to the natural and orderly processes of business and finance.

SENATE ADDED BURDEN.

The legislation, the president also said, would result in added credit burdens and the government, he contended, should not be "called upon further to finance private business at public expense."

Referring to widespread demands for abolition of war agencies and removal of governmental influence from business, the president said he had "sympathy" with this view and added that "the nation should resume its usual business methods."

Upon reading of the veto message in the senate, Senator Underwood, of Alabama, democratic leader, urged its immediate consideration, for which unanimous consent was secured by Chairman Gronna, of the agriculture committee which reported the bill. Senator Underwood followed with the only amendment made, declaring that financial distress now was greater than during the war and that he felt confident of wise administration of the proposed law that would cause "no undue drain on the treasury."

On the senate roll call, twenty-nine democrats were joined by twenty-four republicans in overriding the veto.

With President.

Supporting the president's opposition were two democrats, Senators Gerry, of Rhode Island, and Thomas, of Colorado, and two republicans, Elkins and Sutherland, of West Virginia, and Keyes, of New Hampshire.

Senators Glass, democrat, Virginia, and Edge, republican, New Jersey, voted against overriding the veto, but withdrew their votes on account of having pairs. Senator Fenno, of Pennsylvania, a republican leader, was paired, but announced that he would have voted to sustain the veto.

The president's message also was read in the house. Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, republican leader, announced later that it would be taken up tomorrow at the option of the house, but without any definite arrangements for a vote.

Advocates of the bill, however, expressed confidence that the house also would vote to sustain the bill despite the veto.

The house passed the bill by a vote of 212 to 61, with more than the necessary two-thirds majority.

Opposition votes cast by republicans.

Criticism Secretary.

Before the president's message reached the state today, Harrison, democrat, Mississippi, a leading advocate of the legislation, criticized Secretary Houston, director of the treasury, for his recent statement that he had advised presidential disapproval of the bill without indicating such opposition when Mr. Houston was before congressional committees.

Senator Edge issued a statement tonight declaring that the president's arguments against the bill were "unconvincing and unconvincing."

By issuing bonds the finance corporation, Senator Edge said, would adversely affect the present financial and economic situation without any direct resultant good to producers.

THE GRAND JURY'S ASTOUNDING REPORT.

The report of the Fulton county grand jury submitted yesterday to Judge Humphries is startling in its significance.

The report is published in full

in today's Constitution.

It exposes a condition of affairs

in Atlanta that is literally astounding

and the worst feature of the situation is that the grand jury

summarily dismissed "for the good of the service;" and, as to the chief of police, it says that "of

one fact we are sure: That is, the chief of police should be chief

of police in fact, and not simply in

name, and then he should be held

strictly accountable for the efficiency or non-efficiency of the entire

department"—a conclusion in

which every right-thinking citizen

of Atlanta will readily concur.

The grand jury acquits Chief

Beavers of the charge of connivance,

though not of lack of knowledge,

edge, of the horrible condition

exposed in its report.

This is good for the chief, in so far as it goes, but it indicates that if the police administration of Atlanta is to grapple with the situation that now exists it must be under the direction of an Iron

Hand and a Mailed Fist, backed by a head that knows a hawk from a buzz saw, and a determination to get results or die in the effort!

The grand jury directly charges that a strong organization of confidence men and gamblers have been operating here for at least three years, with practically no

interruption by our officers.

During the year 1920, it stated in the report, "more than $1,500,-

000 was cleaned up by the gambling fraternity in confidence

games in this and neighboring states," by crooks operating with

Atlanta as their base.

"Several of these crooks," says

the report, "owned real estate

here, including fine homes; they had several fine autos, and dressed extravagantly;" and they have,

"during the past three or four years, systematically, and apparently without interference on the part of the detective department of Atlanta, exploited all kinds of schemes and devices for robbing men."

Thus, without mincing words,

the grand jury calls a spade a spade, and its report goes to the very root of the evil of which there has been so much complaint. It shows that gambling has been going on here for three or four years, openly, in approximately half a dozen different places,

maintained and conducted by men who were widely and generally known by respectable citizens.

It boldly gives their names, and the locations of their dens.

It even goes to the extent of charging collusion on the part of the detective department, and sets direct evidence to prove that city detectives owned many of the automobiles which this organized gang of crooks, yeggmen, swingers and confidence men—some of them even murderers—employed in conducting their hellish vocation!"One of our detectives swore he knew nothing about confidence men," says the report, "although evidence proved he was with them almost daily!"That the police have known of the existence of these gambling dens is clearly proven by evidence placed before the grand jury.

Several "raids" upon them were actually made by uniformed policemen; but the report plainly implies that always the detective force managed to have the arrested crooks released upon insignificant bond, and seldom were such cases ever brought to trial, even in recorder's court.The report goes on to say that in one instance, following a raid by uniformed police officers, in which 23 arrests were made—"All of these cases were docketed on police records as 'disorderly conduct'; the cases were supposed to be called in recorder's court the next day, but for some reason—no one seems to know why—they were postponed for another day. One of the men arrested went to recorder's court at the time appointed for trial, but none of the cases was called. Not one of them has ever been called, except for the forfeiture of collateral. It appears that the deposit of cash settled these cases off. It would appear to the grand jury that the methods followed by the detective department in this case practically meant fixing a very low license

for operating a gambling room."

While "the evidence failed to disclose anything which would reflect on the character or faithfulness of Chief Beavers," according to the report, "the testimony disclosed close personal intimacy
or actual deliberate connivance
—of a few of our detectives with the gambling fraternity and liquor dealers!"The grand jury urgently recommends that the guilty detectives be summarily dismissed "for the
good of the service;" and, as to
the chief of police, it says that "of
one fact we are sure: That is, the
chief of police should be chief
of police in fact, and not simply in
name, and then he should be held
strictly accountable for the efficiency or non-efficiency of the entire
department"—a conclusion in
which every right-thinking citizen
of Atlanta will readily concur.Atlanta should make the most of this remarkable report.The grand jury has done its part in a most commendable manner.The rest is for its successor, and the courts, which, backed by public sentiment, have now an open road toward the complete cleaning up of the vicious condition that has existed in Atlanta in recent years.This is the first time a thing of this kind has happened in Atlanta
since the days of reconstruction.
The city was then emerging from the throes of the civil war, and Captain James W. English, the beloved old veteran whose fame will live forever in Atlanta's history, regardless of threats upon his life, put his fearless hands to the throat of the gambling monster in the early '80's.For more than thirty years following Captain English's service as mayor it was a constant source of pride of Atlanta that there was not a gambling house in it—a fact that made Atlanta an American city practically in a class by itself!
Now, not only is open gambling permitted, but many of its allied vices are permitted to flourish in Atlanta—the grand jury freely charging direct collusion between the vice syndicate and the detective department!The brazen effrontery of the vicious element, under the protecting arm of officers who are sworn to uphold the law and protect decency in Atlanta, is fairly staggering in its significance!We cannot too highly commend the grand jury for its fearlessness
and the firm manner in which it has applied the ax to the root of this thing; and now that they have started the ball rolling toward the goal of public safety and civic decency, it is for the courts and the people to do the rest.It is time for a general reorganization of the police department in accordance with the grand jury's recommendations; and the people of Atlanta should now see to it that the guarding of their lives and property rights is placed in the hands of officials and police officers who know the law and who shall be fearless in their determination to enforce it.

SPORTS

Tug-of-War for Football

BY FUZZY WOODRUFF

Some Innovations Worth While

My ancient, honored, most respected friend, Old Bill Keeler, comes as near to having derilium tremens as is possible for unfortunate men who have been dejected all because the University of California trampled over Ohio state University out on the Pacific coast last year. Year after year, Ohio has suffered with that detectable ailment because California didn't trample on us so hard above the Buckeye line one and the same evening, after all.

Brother Keeler, therefore, arises and demands that the forward pass be banned by football rules and that the referee grant his general contention being that the forward pass never was a part of football and never should have been.

His general contention is that the forward pass is an innovation, and he is opposed to innovations as a matter of principle. I am in hearty accord with the distinguished Ancient William. Neither one of us care to prohibit no-dothing, no-sing, no-dance counterpoint music, mayonnaise on meats, the shimmy, futurist art, the abolition of the stymie, realism in literature and many of the other atrocities to which modernity is heir.

But sometimes there are innovations which are indeed worth while, and as far as some are concerned, are certainly as the are some useful functions for water, and the forward pass in football is one of them.

The forward pass in baseball is another one. It has served splendidly in relieving baseball of part of its tediousness, and the forward pass is the proper answer for the gridiron game, which is exactly what sticks in Brother Keeler's epiglottis.

It is on principle to anything which permits spectators to enjoy sport. He admits that the forward pass has permitted real enjoyment on the side lines of football contests.

As far as I'm concerned, I believe that if I liked to watch the old game we had, I do. The present style of football playing is much more fun than the old game now for about five years. I have been with the Continentals Oil company at Lewiston, Mon., as their public relations man for three years, and have no kick coming. Everything has been rosy with Large William. I want to wish Large William and his friends in the south a very happy New Year."

Bill was a type of ball player that is disappearing with all the stomach sliders seen in the south, and he was the hardest loser ever to play a ball game. Rev faced and genial customarily, he always had the temper of a sore-headed bear when his club lost. He knew this and would always cheer him and pray from the bench when his team lost. "I know my disposition gets mean," he explained once, "and so I don't talk to anybody until the game is over."

Speaking of Bill once Charley Frank said: "McGlynn was the best player we had. We used to have before the athletes began organizing fraternities and unions and all that sort of stuff. They're too chummy with each other now to do like that." And a player after he had been tackled.

But most people do not. The best news of this is the fact that about twenty thousand people folks turn out for football matches in the season now as did fifteen years ago. The pass has not only opened up the defense of every team, but it has player to have to win ball games."

National Body to Rule Boxing to Be Organized

New York, January 3.—Organization of a national body to control professional boxing will be effected at a three-day session which will begin January 10. Following a luncheon to the delegates from the various states an executive session will be held at the International Boxing Club, where selection of a temporary chairman and secretary will be followed by the appointment of committees on contracts, arbitration, etc.

The tentative title selected for the new body is the national board of boxing control. Delegates from several states have been appointed, and other states have announced that representatives will be named before the conference or that the matter has been referred to the executive committee.

From the correspondence received by the international sporting club officials, who are spending the winter in the organization, it is evident that the delegates generally favor the reduction of purses and admission charges, national regulation

NEW COMMISSIONERS NOW GOVERN DECATUR

H. R. Sharp Elected City Clerk and Charles McKinney on School Board.

The aldermanic form of government, that has had charge of the civic affairs of Decatur since 1881, came to an end Monday night and the books of the city were turned over by the retiring mayor, S. L. Steele, to the new commissioners, who shortly afterwards elected P. F. Pilcher to become city manager, and to take complete charge of the city's business after January 16.

In retiring, former Mayor Steele, who has been head of Decatur's government for five years, made a short address in which he congratulated the city upon the formation of a capable board of commissioners. He also stated that an audit of the city books will be completed within a few days.

On the first official actions of the new commission was the naming of H. R. Sharp, clerk for the new city government. Charles McKinney, president of the school of education, succeeded Dr. Steele as superintendent. Other city officials to be named by the commissioners are city attorney, members of the board of commissioners, superintendent of waterworks and police force. These officials will be elected as quickly as possible.

The board of commissioners now in charge of the city government of Decatur consists of W. J. Dabney, chairman, or mayor, and police judge; Eugene Allen, chamberlain; George Guy Webb and E. W. White.

City Manager Pilcher, who was agreed upon at a recent meeting of the board of commissioners, came to take active charge of the city from Norfolk, Va., in about two weeks at a salary of $3,600 per year. He will have complete charge of the city's affairs, with the exception of the schools and the sinking fund.

At a meeting of the commissioners next Friday night the second member of the board of education will be named.

FIRST FIGHT CARD OF YEAR ROUNDED OUT

BY FRED HANEY.

Only thirteen days now and the largest and the most looked forward to fight this year, it being the only one so far, will be staged at the direction of Walk Miller. The card includes ten-round bouts and one four-round.

The card, coming Friday, will be held on January 17. The first bout on the program, which will start exactly at 8:30 o'clock, will be a ten-round bout, the knockout route.

Walk Miller, with local lightweights of considerable renown.

The winner of this go will get the opportunity to meet the Master Builders association, pugilists from the contractor's side, that work is continuing on practically all the jobs now in progress, and that while some of the picklers did not report for work during the day that other craftsmen, especially carpenters, came to work with but few pained.

No statement had up to a late hour last night by the union heads, but it is understood that they held meetings with the contractors and the workers missing from the jobs, and that every effort will be made to rally the various craftsman having the ranks of the building trades council for a fight against a reduction in pay.

O. Barge, head of the master builders, said last night that work went forward Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, and the contractors and the workers, members of the association, having had little difficulty, also stated that the contractors expected the men to keep on their posts.

Charles W. Bernhardt said that he and other contractors were aware of the little difference in conditions since the meeting of the men Sunday afternoon. He stated further that he would begin some new work this morning. In the expectation he would have plenty of work men.

Monday being a rainy day caused many men to be idle in the building trades. It was stated, but these men expected to resume work when the weather clears up.

Directors of the club at the meeting today directed that extensive improvements be made at the local park, including the construction of extra bleachers, which will accommodate 2,000 fans.

AMERICANS DESIRE GOLF IN OLYMPICS

New York, January 3.—(Special)

The American Olympic committee

has started work in the direction of ascertaining why the royal and ancient committees has refused to sanction the inclusion of golf on the list of events on the Olympia program.

Not only has the royal and ancient committee refused to offer any suggestion for governing the play in the event the Olympic authorities decide to add the Scotch game.

"Lightnin'" Perfectly Welcome To Keep On Hitting Atlanta

Atlanta had to wait until "Lightnin'" had broken the world's record for consecutive performances before it enjoyed that marvelous success at the Atlanta theater last night; but not at least one of the city's winter citizens realize why the high mark was made and are busy differentiating this particular hit from the others.

Trovato makes a "cello of life" instrument and his effervescent and his amazement at the success he scored.

Trovato's hit was closely approached by Ida Regal and Mack Mack in their sprightly little comedy, "The Scarecrow."

The original songs and dancing are all introduced in unique fashion.

Trovato reaches us from Broadway, both through the press and through the snug conversation of those local enthusiasts who we see "Lightnin'" in the metropolis.

These tales of reasonable adulation will always interest us, but no longer will we dispense with them.

No matter to whom the bright Frank bacon has taken his audiences.

Milton Nobles, who was the super-slow, most beloved Lightnin' of the room, leaves the originator of the role little room for superiority.

If it were not for Milton Nobles he would be the most popular man in the world.

As it is, he is the most popular man in the world.

Two energetic youths in the persons of Howard and Hoffman, figures of the stage, are the sprightly little comedies.

The Gleasons and Houlehead present an interesting series of character dancing, piano and xylophone selections.

Stocks Make Good Opening Followed by Another Drop

BY R. L. BARNUM

New York, January 3.—With the reserve ratio of the twelve federal banks as a whole starting out the week up to 45.4 compared with 45.1 a week ago and 43.7 at this time last year, and with many prominent business men giving out over the holiday optimistic interviews on the general outlook there was an accumulation of buying orders at the opening of the stock market this morning that carried prices from January 1 2 points with the largest gains in rails.

But then the Atlantic Gulf, which opened at its closing price of 76, started to decline and quickly dropped to a new low record of 70. Then the market as a whole turned weak with the bears putting out fresh lines of short stock. After declines of from 1 to 2 points on the average the market grew extremely dull.

ATLANTIC GULF STILL DROPPING.

Atlantic Gulf, which has had a decline of from 140 to 70 without a rally, has recently upset the general market a number of times. That stock, like all shipping shares, is racing a slump in traffic with ocean rates much lower and the chances are that the present dividend rate of 10 per cent will not be maintained. However, the heavy selling to one new low record after another is attributed in well-informed quarters here to liquidation by a firm that has been carrying a heavy load in copper and one or two other industries.

Today's annual report of the Cudahy Packing company for the fiscal year ended October 30, 1919, shows what happened in many lines of business. For the year the company earned $288,000,000 gross against $306 for 1919, $286 for 1918 and $184 for 1917. Compared with the record of 1919, 1919 there was a falling off in gross of only $18 millions, or 5 per cent. But when it come down to the surplus applicable to dividends, for 1920 there was only $62,000 against $2,064,000 for 1919, $13,376,000 for 1918 and $4,431,000 for 1917. Moreover, the $12,493,000 profit and loss surplus for 1918 compares with $9,620,000 for 1919, and only $5,122,000 for 1920. This makes it plain that the more business the company did, the worse off it was. That was true of many if not most lines of industry. The overhead was too high, but we are at least headed in the right direction.

BRICKLAYERS CUT WAGES.

Today's dispatches from Florida report that the Bricklayers' union adopting a "live and let live" policy have voluntarily asked for a 20 per cent cut in wages. From Danbury comes the news that the Haters' union voted for a 20 per cent wage reduction. Bethlehem Steel announces a cut of from 10 to 20 per cent.

Much interest was displayed here in the regular annual offering of common stock to employees by the United States Steel corporation. This year the price was $81 a share. For 1919, $106; for 1918, $92; for 1917, $107; for 1916, $85; there was no offering for 1914; for 1913, the price was $57; for 1912, $66; for 1911, $70; for 1910, there was no offering; for 1909 the price was $50. Take these ten offerings up to this year and the average cost of one share to an employee figures out $79, and he has been allowed to buy that stock on the installment plan. Some day more people are going to understand that there are reliable banking houses that will buy securities for them on the installment plan. It is a great way to save money and start a nest egg that grows.

Two companies identified with the automobile industry, whose shares are listed on the New York stock exchange, announced today the dividends had been passed: Parrish & Blingham and the Ohio Body and Blower.

WATCH GOODYEAR DEVELOPMENTS.

Everybody in the financial district appears to be paying strict attention to the day-to-day developments in the Goodyear Tire Rubber company. Today it was learned that that company has $28,000,000 indebtedness coming due February 15. This is in the form of credits by the banks.

Receivers were appointed today for the Consolidated Arizona Copper company, whose shares are traded in on the curb. More failures are expected this month. But the question is have these failures already been discounted stock marketwise? The bears say no, and say it should. The attitude of our ablest men here is to say that a great deal of bad news has already been discounted and that liquidation in the retail trade and in labor has caught up with the liquidation already effected in wholesale and jobbing prices there will be landing places reached with perhaps a general recovery in prices reflecting undersupply of many, many necessities of life.

Kuhn, Loeb & Co. today announced that $1,600,000 gold had been shipped to them on the Finland and $2,400,000 on the Kaiserin Augusta. This makes $87,000,000 gold received by that private banking firm since January 1, 1919.

Their Medicine Chest For 20 Years

IT is characteristic of folks after they pass the allotted
"three score years and ten" to look back over their past, to come to the realization that they have lived and thoughtfully live them over.

I find myself, at seventy-one, frequently drifting back a quarter of a century, when I am myself in the little drug store, in the old days. Many years ago, selling a vegetable compound to my friends and
customers—what we now own only
as a trade name—was a pleasure for Sennons, Liver
and Bowel Complaints.

For many years while I was perfecting my formula I studied and investigated the various laxatives and cathartics on the market, and found that their main fault
was not that they did not act on the bowels, but that their action was too violent, and that they were upon the whole, not to the user;
which was due to the fact that they were not thorough enough in their action, some not acting at all, others only partially, and those who did act only on the lower or large intestines, and that they left in the body a residue which would act as a irritant, and make a habit requiring augmented doses.

I believed that a preparation to produce
the best effect must first tone the liver, then act on the stomach and entire alimentary tract. It was the desire of the manufacturer to make a laxative, and selling a vegetable compound to my friends and
customers—what we now own only
as a trade name—was a pleasure for Sennons, Liver
and Bowel Complaints.

After experimenting with hundreds of different compounds, I at last perfected what is now known as Senn's laxative, which I truly believe goes further

PENROSE TO FIGHT EMERGENCY TARIFF

Such Is Expectation of Leaders When Fordney
Bill Reaches Senate Committee Today.

Washington, January 3.—The Fordney emergency tariff bill will be taken up tomorrow by the senate finance committee at a meeting called by Senator Penrose, its chairman, on his return today to the capitol after an absence of more than a year.

The Pennsylvania senator was very reticent, but gave every indication of a desire to bury in committee the Fordney bill which has passed the house. Other senate leaders predicted Senator Penrose would exert his influence, generally admitted as great, to keep the measure from being returned to the senate at this session.

Senator Penrose on his return to the capitol showed the effects of his long illness, although apparently making much better into the exacting duties of the committee. He arrived at the doors of the senate chamber in a wheel chair, but walked to his seat, although his step was unsteady, and his six-feet-four height was slightly stooped. Once seated he did not fail to respond to the greetings of senators as they gathered around him.

During his first day at the capitol the senator held conferences with half a dozen senators. One of the bills proposed by Senator Penrose would declare a national holiday, and another would direct the bringing back from the battlefields of France of the body of the Unknown Soldier for a burial with proper ceremony in Arlington National cemetery.

Employees of Norfolk and Western Recite Complaints to Board.

Chicago, January 3.—Grievances of employees of the Norfolk and Western railroad, which led to the taking of strike action, were presented before the United States railway labor board today. The first complaint heard involved the change of the "home terminal" on the Columbus-Portsmouth, Ohio, directly to each of five or more industries, scattered over the city, five or six such commissioners to be supplied by a central one, and the workers to be supplied by the company.

The home terminal forestay was to be supplied with train crews spending their time away from home at Portsmouth. Recently the company reversed this plan.

Own Homes.

Vic Fullerton, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, representing the employees, said the change was unfair, as the train crews made their homes in Portsmouth, where they owned property, and that if they change stands they will have to sell their houses and move elsewhere.

William J. Jenkins, general manager of the road, with headquarters at Roanoke, Va., defended the order as merely "a temporary initiative to avoid payment of overtime for the longer lay-over at Portsmouth.

Ask Re-classification.

Request for a change in the classification of the mail cars and shift service was also brought up. Employees' representatives asked that this service, now classified as through mail, be reclassified as local freight.

Dr. Charles P. Neill, representing the Norfolk and Western, declared that the reclassification was not justified

for the new railroad.

The case is being heard by a subcommittee of the board. Last month the board imposed Fitzgeralld and Western representatives here to explain why the strike vote was taken without first submitting the case to the board.

While their flight of approximately 800 miles was not a long distance in time record, the aviators

probably reached a point farther

north than ever before attained by any man before. The flight from Rockaway Air station at 12:15 p.m., December 13, and landed at 2 p.m. the next day. Knowing that the weather conditions would carry them over the mountainous districts of northern New York, the aviators

probably purposely kept their craft at a high altitude, especially at night, when the clouds may have densely found themselves over the Canadian woods and decided keep going until they could find an open space and land safely.

Darkness Threatens

City of Americus,

Due to Controversy

Americus, Ga., January 3.—(Special to the Constitution)—The American Electric company having failed to get together on lighting "American" streets during 1920, this city may be in darkness any night. W. C. Rogers, manager of the lighting company, insists that the city pay an advance of approximately $6 per cent on the price of electricity, while Mayor Sheppard and the majority of the members of the city council contend that with prices already set, even other lines of business should not be burdened.

The old contract expired December 31, and city council has formally decided to submit the contractors concerning rates to the state railroad commission for adjustment. Instead the streets and lights committee, of which Mr. B. Marshall is president, has been required to negotiate a new contract or to secure current elsewhere.
